

Advanced Outcomes for the Adult Evening and Online Program

---

Advocacy – The student uses appropriate strategies and disciplinary methods and knowledge to advocate for and work for the improvement of the organizations and communities to which she is committed.

Communication--The student gathers and critically evaluates qualitative and quantitative information and effectively tailors her communications to multiple audiences in multiple modes for multiple purposes.

Technological Fluency – The student demonstrates technological fluency in the generation of knowledge to guide recommendations and decisions for improvements in organizations and communities.

Entrepreneurial Careering – The student discerns, plans for and conveys an adaptable and ethical professional identity and competence.

Women's Leadership –The student draws upon a wide range of theoretical, practical and personal resources to exercise a distinctive and effective leadership style.